

Chapter 14

Builder Or Wrecker

Personal Development Secrets
Of Successful Entrepreneurs

Steve Scott
The Houston Business Coach

Builder Or Wrecker

A Thank You and A Look Forward To Being More And Having More

First, I want to thank you. I appreciate the time you have spent with me and I hope it has been of benefit to you. If you have liked and benefited from this material I have other offerings that can help move you to the next level.

This offering is only for the serious entrepreneur. The Business Keys To Success Home Study Course is designed to guide you to take an in-depth look, design action steps and develop a plan for you and around you to take you to greater success.

As you go through this course you will change your thinking, get a clearer picture of where you want to go and most importantly, create the tools to get there. This course will stretch you and start you on a growth track to becoming more and attracting more. Act now by visiting BusinessKeysToSuccess.com

For the most direct and effective way to move you and your business forward there is one-on-one coaching. When you are coached you have decided that you will no longer be ordinary and settle for average.

Coaching is about being held accountable for what you want. It is about accelerating the process of getting you and your business where you want to go. Would you rather accomplish what you want in 2 years or 6 months? The choice is yours. For more information and to schedule your free initial consultation, visit me at TheHoustonBusinessCoach.com

Questions for Reflection and Evaluation

Today's Lesson On Builder Or Wrecker

When you are self-employed your business is a direct reflection of your attitude. Your attitude as it is reflected in your business, yourself and others.

As Zig Ziglar says, "Your attitude in life will determine your altitude."

What attitude are you sending out? Are you building up others? Or, are you tearing them down? Let's go back to the poem, Builder Or Wrecker from the video:

I watched them tearing a building down,
A gang of men in a busy town.
With a ho, heave, ho and a lusty yell
They swung a beam and a wall fell.

I asked the foreman, "Are these men skilled?
Like the men you'd hire if you had to build?"
He laughed as he replied, "No, indeed,
Just common labor is all I need.

I can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken years to do."
I asked myself as I went away
Which of these roles have I tried to play?

Am I a builder who works with care,
Measuring life by rule and square?
Or am I a wrecker who walks the town
Content with the labor of tearing down?

1. What areas of your life are you a builder?

2. In those areas, what are some specific things you could do build even more?

3. What areas of your life are you a wrecker? This may include others but I would start with your self. What is your self-talk about you, your business and life?

4. In those areas, what are some specific things you will do to start building yourself and others up? Very often, what we are tearing down is based on our fears? Look at your fears. How are you going to move beyond them?

The Houston Business Coach series of educational products can put you on track to having more in your business and life. For other products go to TheHoustonBusinessCoach.com, For one on one coaching, contact us to discuss your options at 1-866-387-7805. We look forward to speaking with you.

©2010 The Houston Business Coach; No part of this study may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying and recording, or by any information storage or retrieval system, except as may be expressly permitted in writing by the publisher. Requests for permission should be addressed in writing to Steve Scott at info@TheHoustonBusinessCoach.com • DeborahsGraphic.com, 936.718.2078